

Magdayaw: A Celebration with Cor Jesian Poise and Grace

Take a step, then glide. Extend your arms and shine your smiles with the cultural beat of drums and strum of rondallas as we celebrate the bountiful culture of Digos with Cor Jesian poise and grace.

Cor Jesu College again reached a top success. Winning the creative Folk Dance Competition during Padigosan 2018 brought again a trophy, a victor that highlights the oblique passion of Cor Jesians through dancing.

Talented teacher performers wowed the judges and gained rain of applauses from the audience as they brought color to the stage with during their performance. With every step, they reflect power and style showing the shining hues of Digos culture as they perform various cultural folk dances that signify one of the pride labors of Digos, fishing. With vibrant colors, they brought happiness and entertainment to the audiences, making them burst with smiles as they witness the incredible performance.

Adrian James Ondoy, a grade 12 student who witnessed the performance, was impressed with the talent teacher performers showed during the event. Together with his friends, they expressed their loud cheers full of pride and confidence in support of their teachers.

“The performance made us feel proud to be a part of a high-class institution of talented and incredible professionals. It made us feel that being a Cor Jesian truly can bring out the best in everything”, he said.

The presentation gained a lot of positive comments from different views of personalities and institutions across the city. News Midnight Online even extended their warmest congratulations for a “job well done”. As described by Preciousbae Channel from Youtube, they “showed their grace and poise while doing this kind of genre”. Over social media, people gave their kudos to the triumph for presenting such wonderful face of culture in the festival.

Even Mr. John Paul Reponte, a teacher in CJC and one of the performers of the event, was impressed and amazed with their own success. The positive responses gave the performers the motivation to even enhance and heighten their standards towards becoming the best of the best in every performance.

Padigosan 2018 highlights the bright culture of Digos and the glory of every Digoseno as they show their harvest and colorful bounties during the celebration. Like every colorful rhythm, the event shows the bursting image showing the pride and unity of every Digoseno as victors on the rise of the city. As Cor Jesu took part in celebrating this event with the festive spirit, they contribute joy to the lives of the Digosenos. They gave color and vibrancy reflected during the festival. They brought with them happiness that Digosenos deserve to have with poise and grace, the brilliance of being a proud Digoseno and the presence of their bountiful smiles.
